The gentlemen were all in full dress and wore white gloves. The bridesmails and maid of honor were all in low neck, long-sleeved white organdies, most elaborately made yet withal an air of perfect daintiness.

Wimodaughsis and Its Work in Va. rious Sections.

"Wives mothers, daughters, sisters," was too long a name to give to one club, so the clever women of Washington who rs. Earl Marcolni Marcolni and No. 908 Chenevert are its founders, coined a word—"Wi-modaugh-sis"-Wimodaughsis,

The club is just what its name indicates a home or club house for wives, mothers. at the society is a member of the National depression by the unavoidable absence and these of several, but their parts were the soft several, but their parts were the several below the sev
